

Treating Erectile Dysfunction: Generic Viagra Bad for You?

About Generic Viagra

- The Generic Viagra is an FDA-approved counterpart of branded Viagra. However, both medications work the same to combat ED.
- Sildenafil Citrate is the active ingredient that is present in Generic viagra.
- The standard dosage of this drug is 100mg
- Online drugstores also offer generic viagra 100mg tablets easily.

How does Generic Viagra Works?

- The Generic Viagra pills belong to a category of medicines called PDE5 inhibitors as it works to inhibit the PDE5 enzyme
- The Generic Viagra acts as secret vasodilators for improving blood flow.
- The enhanced vasodilators dilate arteries vessels and help to relax the smooth muscles.
- This entire process results in a firm phallus when a man is sexually stimulated.

Is Generic Viagra Bad for You?

The Generic Viagra bad for you in some cases. It is essential to take this medicine correctly. It may cause:

- Other side effects include an immediate drop in blood pressure, insomnia, nasal congestion, or a runny nose and nosebleeds.
- Hearing loss
- Optic nerve damage or sudden vision loss
- Prolonged painful erection (priapism)

What are the Contraindications of Generic Viagra

- The Generic viagra should be avoided by:
- Men with extreme health issues
- Men who use alpha-blockers and nitrates
- Women and Children
- Individuals under 18 years of age

Contact Us-

• Website : <https://www.medexpressrx.com/>

• Toll-free No. : USA- 800-808-3375, UK- 808-101-3442, Aus.-
800-706-529

• Email : customersupport@medexpressrx.com

THANK YOU!

MedExpress<sup>Rx</sup>
— HEALTH AND WELLNESS —